

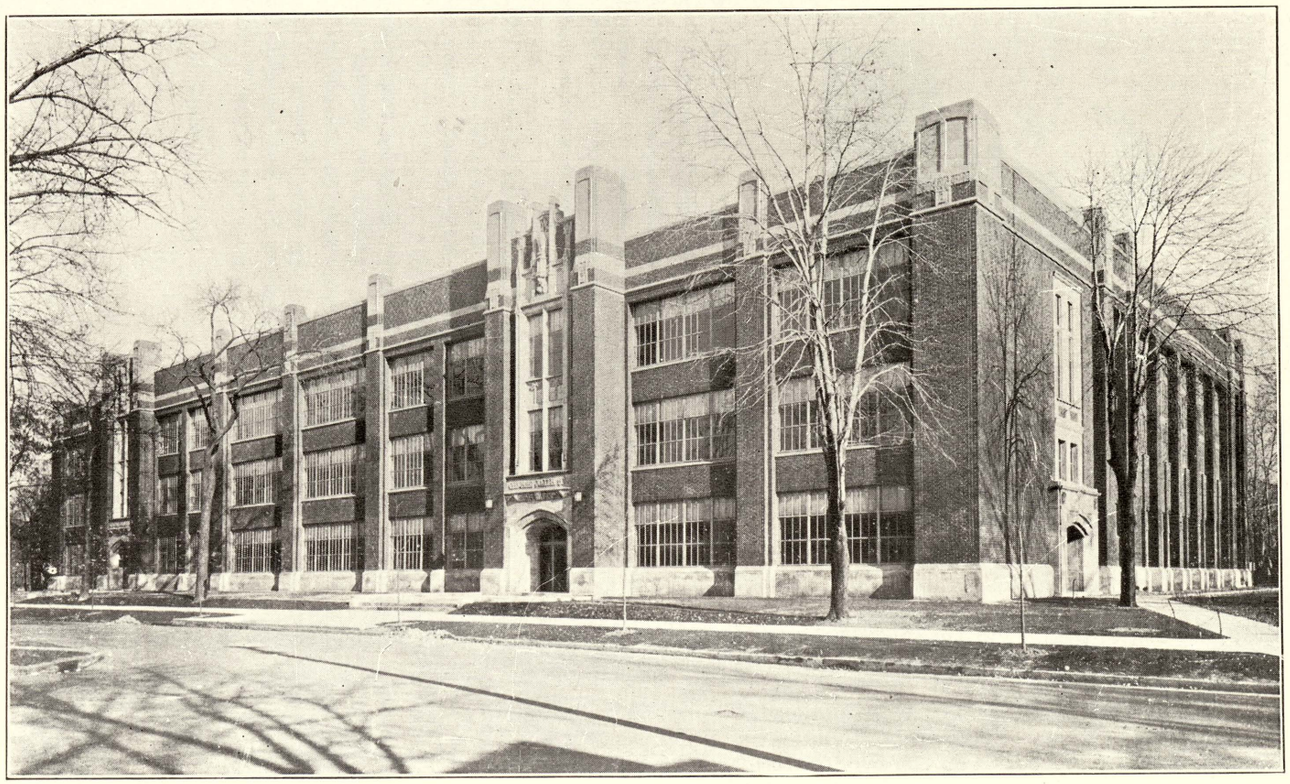
As the school year of 1952-1953 draws to a close we wish our ninth graders to leave Central with pleasing thoughts of the past year. It is hard to say goodbye to Central Junior High School, our teachers, friends, and activities, but time marches on, and senior high school awaits.

We, the Journalism Class of 1952-53, have tried to record the events and happenings which have helped to make a more joyous and prosperous year.

This has been done by presenting to the students and faculty an annual year book, which they may keep to refresh their memories of junior high school days.

We extend our kindest thoughts for health, happiness and success in the future years to come.

CECIL ELY, Editor-in-Chief



Central Junior High School is located at Weadock and Emerson Streets in the heart of the East Side. Ground was broken in 1922 and the building was completed in 1923. Central has been called Saginaw's first million-dollar school. This year marks the 30th anniversary of our school. The members of the 1923 Saginaw School board were: George H. Boyd, president; William W. Warner, vice-president; Edward C. Oscar, secretary. Regular members of the board were: George H. Boyd, William R. Kendrick, Hamilton Watson, Fred Buck, Donald McDonald, George B. Wilcox, Elbert C. Fisher, Gustav F. Oppermann, Galen E. Wilson, Henry Witters, George H. Zuckermandel. The architects were Cowles and Mutscheller.

Not Goodbye, But So Long!

AGAIN we have reached the close of a year. To many, like a commencement, this means a "beginning" in a new situation. You will enter senior high, or you will enter the school of life. To others, there will be a good vacation meaning fun and frolic, or at least a change in work.

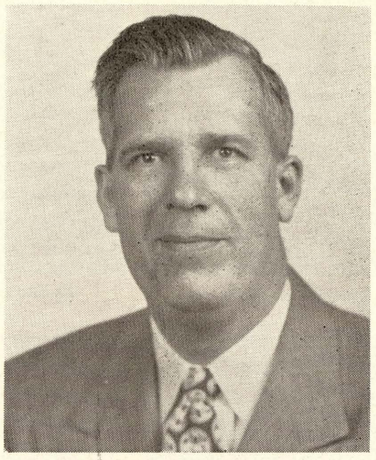
We would like you to remember us. We hope you remember those in the faculty who have helped you in the step toward the good things of life. We know you will remember many, many friends you have made here.

Our best hopes for your future go with you, and good wishes for each of you to make good in life, attend you all through the years to come.

N. W. CHAFFEE, Principal

Dedication

I am happy to express my best wishes to all the pupils of Central. I trust that your future school days will be happy and profitable ones, and that you will bring honor to yourselves and Central Junior. Always follow our school motto, "Do Right," and your path through life will lead to success and happiness.



Leslie J. Turner, Dean of Boys

Velma Coyne, Assistant Principal

Central Junior has 1500 boys and girls and each is willing to do his or her part to make Central Junior the fine school it is.

As each 9th grade group is about to leave for high school we wonder who can take the places of those who have done so much in athletics, on service squads, in our bands or choruses.

Those of us who have learned to know the boys and girls who have served Central so well look forward to what the future can offer and wish them well.

Somebody said it couldn't be done,
But he with a chuckle replied
That "maybe it couldn't," but he would be one
Who wouldn't say so till he'd tried.
So he buckled right in with the trace of a grin
On his face. If he worried he hid it.
He started to sing as he tackled the thing
That couldn't be done, and he did it.
—Edgar A. Guest

Learn to live, and live to learn,
Ignorance like a fire doth burn,
Little tasks make large return.
—Baynard Taylor

"Learning hath his infancy, when it is but beginning and almost childish; then his youth, when it is luxuriant and juvenile; then his strength of years, when it is solid and reduced; and lastly his old age, when it waxeth dry and exhaust."—Bacon

"Cup of Honor"

We, here at Central, should be very proud of our citizenship cup, that we have had since 1944. This cup proves that we have been good citizens and it is up to us to do so in the future.

Nine years ago, The American Legion presented citizenship cups to the junior high schools in Saginaw.

This cup of honor can be taken away from us anytime our citizenship is bad, and not brought back until better citizenship is again restored.

The American Legion Cup, placed on the first floor by the auditorium on the trophy cases, is twenty-eight and one-half inches tall.

The cup is made of silver and the base of the cup is black. On the top is a silver band which has engraved on it:

This cup was presented to Central Junior High because of our splendid citizenship.

This cup presented as an honor proves that we can always have good citizenship for years to follow.

The Journalism Class

THE journalism class of 1952-53 has brought you the monthly and this annual Reflector through the help of the typing and printing classes.

Eighth and ninth graders together work to bring you a Reflector you'll enjoy and keep as a memento of your days and friends here at Central.

Mr. Richard Dunne is our instructor. With the help of Cecil Ely, our editor-in-chief, he checks the articles before they are sent to typing. After coming back from typing they are rechecked, then they are taken to the printing department where Mr. Distler has Reflector printers set them in type.

The assistant editor, Guna Zobans helps check articles and, with the editor, helps to keep the class in order.

We hope you are as proud to have this Reflector as we are proud to bring it to you.

Teachers' Quotations

Mr. Burtt: "If you got time to talk you got time to get them all right."

Mr. Blenkhorn: "Is the class ready to go to lab. now?"

Miss Tessin: "Make the best of this art class."

Mrs. Habel: "Get ready for your spelling."

Mrs. Samra: "Do you have gum in your mouth?"

Mr. Czuchna: "All right, boys, let's get busy."

Ninth Grade Group

Reflector Printers

DURING the past school year of 1952-53 the printing classes under the fine supervision of Mr. John Distler, have put in much time and effort to help make our monthly and our thirtieth annual Reflector a year book of which we can be proud.

Mr. Distler has taught the boys to set type, to run presses, how to tie type up in the galley and to then distribute it back into the the California job case, and other necessary jobs around the shop.

Our printers have turned out eight monthy Reflectors and have printed many bills, tickets, programs, P. T.A. notices and numerous other printing jobs of the school.

The boys on the Reflector printing staff work during their printing class periods and even sometimes on their own time, in order to get this work done and also to earn service points.

The boys on the Reflector printing staff, along with the fine supervision of Mr. Distler, with which the Reflector could not be without, deserve a lot of credit for their fine work.

The Reflector printers are listed as follows:

Eighth grade printers: Robert Hozeska, Claude La Fray, Maynard Heft, John Molda, Kenneth Martuch, Fred Niemeyer, Norman Rhodes, James Stammers, Rolly Alfaro, Larry Allish, Alvin Barnes, Ralph Duma, Robert Herline, John Hinton,William Hill, Owen Jesse, Roger Leonard, Franz Jordan, Earnest Klann, Bennie Palmore.

Maintenance Force

We have our janitors and janitresses to thank for our school being so clean.

The teachers and students would like to thank them for the fine job they are doing here at Central.

On our janitor force we have Louis Brackley, who is head janitor, Thomas Bingham, Hector Hawkins, Walter Powlowski, Fred Miller, Chancey Thayer, James Bailly and Lino Arcangeli.

The engineers and firemen are: Carl Phillips, head engineer, Sheridan Crane, John Stimpson, and Roy Morris.

Our janitresses are: Hazel Braves, Mildrene Sawatzke and Sarah Bennet.

Mrs. Lucy Reetz is the laundress for all the public schools.

Jed Somers says the only thing that kept him from going to college was high school.

Ninth Grade Group

School Service Typists

THE school service typists are the students who type for the monthly and Annual Reflectors. Without them we could not publish the Reflector.

Eighth and Ninth Grade Group

The typists must know how to use their judgment about the work they do. To become a Reflector typist you must be able to type accurately and rapidly.

They do many other jobs beside just typing for the Reflector. They type letters, report cards, and marking sheets. Sometimes they do special jobs.

They deserve a lot of credit for what they have done this year. The service typists are: Barbara Gough, Rochelle Goodboo, Edith Inscho, Phylis Hainer, Pat Fletcher, Marilyn Dunn, Beverly Eddy, Marie Garske, Mike Blazejewski, Joe Chobod, Lois Betzold, Barbara Floeter, Sally Lang, Reta Silnicks, Kathryn Kruegar, Donna Letourneau, Collince Vasold, Carol Acker, Pat Brown, Beverly Sperry, Janet Baumgartner, Karen Zaystow, Nancy Haag, Janice Meleski, Judy Brandt, Cecil Eubanks, Shirley Keifer, Glenda Ferman, Rose Louise Bradley, Frances Fisher, Barbara Fauver, Carol Agnew, Marvin Hare, Grace Jordon, Leann Keiridge, Mary Ann Ludwig, Marjorie Lovett, Marlene Melvin, Frank Mayer, Karen Moreau, Arturo Rosales, and Carol Ruyts.

They laid the inert gentlemen out on the station house floor. The rookie cop stood by as the doctor made his examination. "That man's been drugged," said the physician.

The rookie cop nervously replied, "That's right sir, must be all my fault. I drug him six blocks."

The best way to keep up with the Joneses is to take it easy for a while and in a few years you'll meet them coming back.

Hall of Fame

As the wonderful and unforgettable school year of 1952-53 comes to a close we find that many of our ninth graders are deserving enough to be mentioned in our Hall of Fame.

We find that Cecil Ely tops our list in this year's Hall of Fame. Cecil was on the service squad, editor of our Reflector, had all A and B report card, helped in library, in art club, and was lieutenant on fourth hour noon duty.

Karen Zaystow is mentioned because she is on the service squad, all-A report card, and on the volleyball team.

Ronnie Spica earns honorary mention here because he is manager of the stage crew, and was on the soccer team.

Of course we can't forget Jinnet Nicholson who was the song bird of Central.

Then we find Fred Warner, who was on the soccer and basketball teams; he was our athlete of the year.

Edith Inscho finds a place for herself here because she is secretary of her homeroom, all-A and B report card, and because of her pleasing smile and personality.

Jim Savell is mentioned here because he has an all-A and B report card, was on the service squad, and is a friendly guy.

Next we find Anna Dater who is on the service squad, on noon duty, all-A and B report card, and helper for Miss Lundbum.

We can't forget Dick Bartels who was a lieutenant on the service squad, on the basketball team, and president of his homeroom.

Shirley Wofgang finds her place here because she is on the service squad, president of her homeroom, and friendly to everyone.

Joe Scott deserves special mention here because he is on the basketball team, soccer team, and because of his pleasing personality.

Carol Chivington is placed here because she is on the service squad, all A-and B report card, and took part in the Highlights.

Jim Schadt who is on the basketball team, in the ninth grade band, and vice-president of his homeroom, surely deserves a place in our Hall of Fame.

Next Rosalind Mathews deserves to be mentioned here because she is in the ninth grade band, took part in our Highlights, and is on the service squad.

Tom Herm who was on the service squad, and in our school play is also mentioned here.

Judy Brandt has found a place for herself in our Hall of Fame because she is on the service squad, and is well known for her grand piano playing.

Cecil Eubanks who was a lieutenant on service squad, and has an all-A and B report card, really deserves his name in our Hall of Fame.

Martha Tomlinson who was in the ninth grade band, on the volleyball team, head majorette, and in our Highlights is also mentioned in our Hall of Fame.

Jim Miller finds a place for himself here because he is captain of the service squad, in the ninth grade band, and all-A and B report card.

Then we find Shirley Keifer who is on the service squad, all-A and B report card, and has taken part in our school plays.

Bob Brinkman is mentioned because of his ability to play basketball, and soccer, and because he is a member of the stage crew.

Next we find Patricia Dooley who is in the ninth grade band, all-A and B report card, and on the make-up committee.

Then we find Tom Thayer who is on the basketball, and soccer team, and because he was one of the well-liked guys of Central.

Sally Strable who is in the ninth grade band, all-A and B report card, and on the service squad should surely be mentioned.

Nelson Lund deserves credit mentioned because he worked in the library, all-A and B report card, on the service squad, and on noon duty.

Caroline Rockwell is placed here because she is lieutenant on the service squad, and has been in our school plays.

Lemual Tucker is placed here because of his wonderful ability to make you laugh.

Margie Lovett who was president of her homeroom, all-A and B report card, on the volleyball team, on the service squad, and in school activities, can't be forgotten.

Of course we can't forget our Reflector printers, Reflector typists, and the members of the journalism class who have made this Annual Reflector and all the monthly Reflectors which you have received throughout the year possible.

Last, but not least, we must remember the the dear and considerate members of our faculty, and thank them for all that they have done throughout the years to help us become better citizens.

New Teachers

Central was fortunate to have ten new teachers added to the faculty during the year of 1952-53.

These teachers are: Miss Goddard, Mr. Kime, Miss Joyce Mayer, Mr. Schairer, Mrs. Robinson, Mr. Blake, Mr. Dunne, Mr. Czuchna, Mr. Petermann, and Ella Frye, who works in the office.

Miss Mayer teaches cooking in room 303. She resides at 1018 Howard Street.

Mr. Schairer teaches civics in room 313. He resides at 828 Emerson Street with his wife.

Mr. Kime teaches wood in shop C. He resides at 2355 East Burt Road with his wife and two daughters, Mary Jane 6, and Catherine Ann 3.

Miss Goddard teaches string orchestra and vocal classes in rooms 116 and 100. She resides at 624 South Warren Avenue.

Mrs. Robinson teaches sewing in room 300. She resides at 1437 Lathrup Street.

Mr. Blake teaches metal in shop B. He resides at 1221 Federal. Mr. Blake last taught in the Technical Training Division, Chrysler Corporation.

Mr. Dunne teaches journalism, and printing, in G-1. He resides at 1225 Thurman Street, with his wife and daughter Barbara Ann.

Mr. Czuchna teaches wood in shop D. He resides at 1414 Annesley with his wife and four sons, Paul 21, at college, Carl 17, Gordon 15, and Gerad 8.

Mrs. Frye works in the office. She resides at 1807 Hemmeter Road.

Central's Band

Central's Band and Orchestra

THIS YEAR, as before, Central has a wonderful band under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Mathews. The band consists of 84 members. This year the band played at one football game, parades, assemblies, P.T.A. meetings and their concert in the spring. The band consists of the following:

Flutes: Pat Dooley, Rosalind Mathews, Jinnet Nicholson, Judy Pike, Pat Powell, Carol Ruyts, and Barbara Floeter.

Clarinets: Barbara Brown, Diana Carl, Carol Chivington, Ann Clark, Jean Dryer, Margaret Hayes, Leann Kerridge, Kathryn Krueger, Carlene Klouse, Clara Reinbolt, JoAnn Rexius, Sylvia Scoon, Janet Baumgartner, JoAnn Bramen, Ed Kapplinger, Stanley Klosniski, Shirley Taylor, Mary Triantafellow, Beverly Sperry, Nancy Vogan, and Wesley Weslier.

Cornets: Ken Baker, James Kato, Bruce Kellog, James Langdon, Judy Lurie, Harold Miller, Tom Mitchel, Alton Pascholka, Jim Schadt, Ken Siems, Ronnie Spica, Sally Strable, Art Webster, Ted Bashans, George Losee and Myrna Nicol.

Saxaphones: Brenda Bushrow, Sally Korniski, and Leslie Von Shipmann.

French Horns: Barbara Fauver, Margaret Kleinbriel, Donna Williams and Ann Slaggert.

Trombones: Gene Bohn, Judy Brant, Cecil Eubanks, Dick Fry, and Gary Novak.

Altos: Carley Pazz, Seferine Garcia, Darlene Morgan, Barbara Gidley.

Baritones: Robert Fager, Phyllis Hanier, Marlene Melvin, Alberta Sherbert, Martha Tomlinson, Lillian Rosas, and Marguerite Reed.

Basses: Ronald Hommes, Ormond Schade, Donna Letourneau.

Drums: Ruthann Gothan, Crystal Greer, Ophellia Jackson, Oscar Luna, Dick Lynes, Charles Marihugh, Helen McCleine, James Miller, Gabie Nagy, and Fred Warner.

Central's Orchestra

Central's orchestra is conducted by a very talented teacher, Miss Goddard. Miss Goddard teaches a very fine class of eighth and ninth graders. The ninth graders are Anna Mae Dater, Jane Meserve, Gerald Zittel, Dick Lodge, and Merritt Whiley. The eighth graders are Ann Kynast, James Cross, Pauline Garrett, Donald Cooper, Pat Brown, Delores Spencer, Donna Agnew, Ruth Barnes, Sandra Hunt and Mary Bernau. Miss Goddard's orchestra played a very fine part in the Christmas program for Central and deserves some credit for the fine work they are doing.

A Dixie GI was playing cards with some English soldiers for the first time. Taking a quick look at what he had been dealt, the Southern boy saw four lovely aces.

"One pound," was the bet ventured by the Englishman on his right.

"Ah don't know how yo'all count yo money," said the GI, "but ah'll raise yo a ton."

Central Junior's Scholastic Program

THIS article is dedicated to the parents of Central's students and to the pupils of elementary schools with the purpose of informing them as to the educational facilities this school has to offer.

Classes in Central consist of mathematics, English, social science, general science, and gym which are required subjects. Other subjects from which the students choose two electives are: shops, home economics, typing, art, journalism, vocal music, band, Latin, orchestra and auditorium.

Parts of speech, proper use of language, spelling and composing of oral and written book reviews, and drills of all types of reading are taught in seventh grade English classes.

The seventh grade mathematics classes are taught the rules of fractions and decimals and the use of the compass and protractor in making geometric figures.

In social science classes they have a course in geography. Geography is a study of our nation, its resources and its people.

A semester of cooking is required for each seventh grade girl, where she learns the use of the kitchen, and gains some experience by stewing prunes, baking muffins and apples, and cooking eggs in many different ways. At the end of a semester a breakfast is prepared and served by the class. Their teacher gives tips on how to serve and tell the important points about table etiquette.

When a semester has been spent in cooking class, a girl takes sewing. In this class she learns how to darn stockings, make pot holders, aprons, and hem towels.

Every pupil who has art-rounds, has vocal music, where group singing is stressed; auditorium, the class that uncover stage talents and enables the student to recite before his classmates; and art, were drawing and artistic abilites are developed. The last of these subjects is the hygiene class, where the boys and girls are taught the parts of the body, and any information that will keep the body healthy.

Seventh grade boys are required to take at least ten weeks of vocational course work in woodwork, metal, printing, and mechanical drawing.

In wood shop and metal shop students make their choice of projects. They pay for the materials used in making them.

The printing students are taught to set up type in the seventh grade, and are privileged to continue printing in the eighth and ninth grades.

Students in mechanical drawing make several drawings during the marking period. In order to receive an "A" a boy is required to turn in eighteen drawings.

In the eighth grade arithmetic classes, pupils learn the use of decimals and percentage in business.

History is another required eighth grade subject. The students learn about the past. Once a week people are selected to give oral reports.

General science classes teach astronomy, the study of the stars, and geology, the study of the earth's surface. Each student is required to make a project on one of the many geological topics. During the period when the classes are studying weather, each pupil keeps a record of the daily weather conditions, and later makes a weather chart.

In the eighth grade gym classes, girls concentrate on learning to play volleyball, and the boy's main game is basketball.

Eighth grade students in auditorium learn to write, deliver speeches and read plays.

Ninth grade English pupils continue the study of grammar and spelling. They are required to read two long novels which are "David Copperfield" and "Ivanhoe."

Toward the end of the year, individual projects are made about these novels. Each ninth grader is required to give at least one book report a marking period.

A choice may be made between ninth grade business mathematics and algebra.

Business mathematics prepare a pupil for a commercial course that is taken later in high school. Arithmetic fundamentals are reviewed and more advanced methods are learned.

Algebra deals mainly with equations. It is especially needed for those who wish to carry on in engineering or other occupations which require a higher knowledge of mathematics.

Civics is also a required subject of ninth graders. It is the study of citizenship and government. State and local laws are analyzed very carefully. In most classes city or state projects are made. The Constitution of the United States is very carefully studied.

Science classes spend the first semester studying about electricity, and during the second semester they study the principles of light and sound, have movies, read magazines and do laboratory experiments which makes the work easier to understand.

In the ninth grade girls gym class they learn to do exercises, dance, and study all the rules and fine points of volleyball thoroughly.

In boys gym class they concentrate on basketball, soccer, and baseball. They also do many types of exercises.

Journalism may be taken in the ninth grade if the student has an "A" or "B" average in English. In journalism the articles are written for the monthly and yearly Reflector.

In the ninth grade auditorium classes the pupils study dramatics and learn to speak, stand and act in front of an audience.

Central's Stage Crew

As we all know, during the past year we have had many fine plays, assemblies, vaudevilles, P. T. A. meetings and a lot of other events here in school made possible by our stage crew. They have charge of curtains, screen and scenery.

The members of this year's crew are Larry Stahl, stage manager, who must have a year's experience and know what must happen, and when it must happen, to make everything go off right, Joe Chobod, Bob Schiff, Bob Brinkman, Chester Smith, Charles Ruffin, Ronnie Woolever, and Don Gosaynie.

Mr. MacDonald was in charge and Mary Robins his secretary. Miss Tessin was again art supervisor.

Majorettes

As we know, the majorettes are our leading girls in all our parades. We are very proud to have them, and we know they have worked hard, nights after school, to bring out a good performance.

The head majorette this year is Martha Tomlinson. Majorettes, Marlene Melvin, Joan Breman, Margaret Hayes, Barbara Maturen, Jeanie Dreyer and Alberta Sherbert.

Mr. Matthews has taught the girls and helped them along. He too, has spent many hours after school to teach them.

Parent-Teacher Activities

CENTRAL's parent-teachers have put on very good programs during the entire year of 1952-1953.

In October there was an open house This enabled the teachers to meet the parents of some of their students.

November, there was a panel discussion, on teen-age problems by a group of parents and students, with William J. Edwards as moderator.

In December, J. Cullen McDonald put on a play called "Don't Open Until Chritmas."

January—The program was about "Your Child in Action." Students demonstrated wood work, metal, sewing and physical education. The band and choir also took part in the program.

In February the English, social science, and mathematics departments gave demonstrations on how audio-visual aids are used in class rooms.

In March the P. T. A. presented the "Highlights of 1953," produced by J. Cullen McDonald.

In April the band had a concert and a speaker gave a talk.

In May a program was given to welcome new students to Central for next year.

Our P. T. A. did a very nice job in planning events for this year.

Mrs. E. Siems,
Secretary-Treasurer

Assembly

In the school year of 1952-53 we had a very nice entertainment program of assemblies. The following are the commercial assemblies we have had this school year:

September 24, 1952 we were entertained by Roland Myers. He is a noted author and lecturer. He gave a lecture on the "Romance of Words."

October 13, 1952 we were entertained in the auditorium by Prouth MacFarland. He is a tenor singer and sang from his wheel chair. One of the songs he sang was "The Lord's Prayer."

November 11, 1952 we were entertained by some very unusual birds. They were Mynah birds. They spoke and sounded like humans.

January 28, 1953 we were entertained by Hedley Hepworth who presented us with some of the immortal characters of Dickens. He was an interpreter and interpreted Dan Peggoty, Mr. Micawber, well known characters from David Copperfield.

February 11, 1953 we were entertained by a magician, C. Tomas Magrum. He was a sensational performer.

April 20, 1953 we had a special assembly. It was a science assembly. The scientist did experiments with air.

May 14, 1953 we were entertained by a daring pair. They were Maurice and Minnette who performed on the uni-cycle. They are tops in the cycle field.

Class Prophecy

As we gaze over the banks of the Magic River we see what the future holds for some of the present ninth grade students of Central Junior High School in the year of nineteen hundred and sixty-three.

First, we see a building one hundred and seventy- six stories tall; as we get closer we see by the name plate on it that the architect was Nelson Lund, a fomer student of Central.

Next we see a new beauty shop in Paris. The head beauty operator is Sandy Wade. The shop is owned by Janet Baumgartner.

Cecil Ely has just reached the position as a famous and successful doctor. His nurse is Ann Thomas.

We see Barbara Gough in the accounting office of Bell Telephone Company. Her private secretary is Dick Bartels.

Sue Laubuck was just crowned "Miss America." The title was formerly held by Barbara Arthur.

We see Lois Betzold has just won a gold cup as the best high jumper of the Olympics. Pat Dooley was the former holder of the cup.

The latest movie to hit New York is "Marooned on an Island." The leading lady is Edith Inscho. The leading man is Jim Savell. It co-stars Carol Kramer, Leta Lutzke, Alva Hayes and Robert Hadley.

As we pick up the newspaper on May 10, 1963, we see the application for a marriage license to Bob Fager and Phillis Hainer. They plan to have an early June wedding and a Paris honeymoon. After the Fagers' return from Paris, Mrs. Fager plans to continue teaching first grade classes.

As we look into the Whitehouse we see the President, Tom Thayer, and his private and attractive secretary Karen Moreau. Some of the men and women on his cabinet are: Harry Crooks, Tom Coombs, Tom Gainer, Dick Fry, and Marie Garske.

Sharon Clasbell was crowned as the world's best opera singer. Some others who tried were Raymond Itter, Carolyn Bull, Kay Catterfeld, Alice Delorme, and Sandra Durand.

Carl Stroble has just been named bowling champion of the world. In his latest three-game series he bowled a total of nine hundred. Tom Herm came second with a total of eight hundred.

We see Shirley Wolfgang has taken Mr. Petermann's place as singing teacher of Central.

Pat Fletcher is the nation's best typist. Her latest number of words per minute was 220. Carlene Klouse is getting close with 165 words per minute.

Bob Brinkman is now principal of Central Junior High.

Sally Strable has just taken Miss Williams' place as secretary of Central.

One of the great scientists of this day and age is Charles Bothwell, a former student of Central. His partner is Tom Novak.

The new volleyball coach of the Amazon Volleyball Team is now Guna Zobans. The former coach was Annette Birkner.

Paramount pictures have just released a new picture, "A Gay Time In Paris," starring Gene Bohn and Judy Perry. It co-stars Roy Beem, Richard Beldock and Art Boell.

Sharon Scott now working for the telephone company and is the fastest switchboard operator. The company is owned by Ted Bashans.

Durel Millar has just made the longest broadjump ever executed. It was thirty-three feet three and one-third inches.

John Miller has taken Mr. Turner's place in the office of Central Junior. His private secretary is Carol Rutz.

We see Diane Glaser as an airline hostess for T. W. A., which is owned by Patricia Brenske.

Groucho Marx has just retired and the great Don Gosaynie has take his place on "You Bet Your Life."

Nancy Haag has taken Dinah Shore's place on T.V. She won more than three hundred awards for her fine singing talent.

We see Bill Laegler as Secretary of State under the President, Tom Thayer.

Jackie Morley has been elected the first woman president of the country of France in the year of 1963. The vice-president is Sharon Sommers.

Wesley Parth has taken Mickey Mouse's place in Walt Disney's comedies.

Carol Chivington is now the manager of the Yankees. Wayne Fletcher has just taken Mickey Mantle's place as center fielder.

Geraldine Fritz is the trainer of two hundred horses and one hundred dogs. She works for Barnum and Bailey Circus. The circus is owned by Mickey Blazejewski.

Ken Thompson has the largest and rarest stamp collection in the world.

Mary Shaffer has just been called the best volleyball player of the decade.

We see Jim Reinbold as an electrical engineer for G. M., now owned by a former student of Central, Charles Marihugh.

Alfred Mitchell is a cartoon artist for Walt Disney. He is dreaming up a new character to be used in the cartoons. He works with Rochelle Goodboo.

Then we see Shirley Keifer has the honor of being the world's best dress designer and she is going to have the grand opening of her new dress shop on January 1, 1963.

Ken Haggart has just won the golden cup of the city of New York because he is the best roller skater the world has ever known.

Bernice Patton was crowned the world's greatest broad jumper. The former person to hold the title was Ann Clark.

Jerry Nelson is the captain of the police force of Saginaw. One of the best detectives on the force is Aaron Lockyer.

Gloria Berger is a great tap dancer. Her dancing teacher was Gary Smith.

Jerry Marks and Joyce Shimel own a great G. M. plant in California.

Judy Brandt is a very intelligent and successful pianist.

Jim Schadt was named "Mr. America of 1963." The former title holder was Art Webster.

Michigan State College's newest physical education teacher is Beverly Eddy. The president of the college is Barbara Fauver.

Bill Maturen is one of the top cheerleaders in the country.

Myrna Nicol is now mistress of ceremonies in the biggest night club in the U. S. It is the "Latin Quarter." Owned and operated by Gary Harsch.

Eddie Forge is now "Mr. Muscles," of 1963.

Martha Tomlinson is a cheerleader for Michigan State College.

Bob Bailey has just taken over the job as district scout executive. The assistant is Byron Roberts.

Alton Pscholka is a very successful engineer. He works for G. M., managed by Mary Livingston.

As we look again into the water of the Magic River we see that it is getting very muddy and we cannot look any further into the year of nineteen hundred and sixty-three. We hope that our predictions all come true and many other students of Central will win fame and fortune.

Service Squad

One of Central's largest and most important organizations is the service squad. Under the supervision of Miss Coyne, the service squad helps maintain order and safety in and outside of our school.

The captain of the service squad this year was Jim Miller. The four lieutenants were Richard Bartels, Cecil Eubanks, Caroline Rockwell, and William Allen. The four assistant lieutenants, who take the place of the lieutenants in case of their absence were Cecil Ely, Karen Zaytsow, John Miller, and David Alcorn. The lieutenants keep a record of the absence and tardiness of monitors. Each floor has one lieutenant except for the second floor which has two.

Cecil Eubanks was the lieutenant of the first floor and the following monitors were his helpers: Cecil Ely, Martha Tomlinson, JoAnn Rexus, Francis Fisher, Rose Bradley, Harold Miller, Carl Strobel, Beverly Sperry, Latchie Washington, Shirley Wolfgang, Judy Pike, Weslier Wesley, Marjorie Lovett, Abraham Huerta, Agnese Lusis, Frank Mayer, Bobbie Lee King, Maurice Zilber, Sandy Wade, Floyd Ferrell, John Doyle, Kenneth Chapman, Janet Baumgartner.

The monitors on the second floor with Richard Bartels as the lieutenant, were: Margaret Ortez, Don Gosaynie, Sharon Scott, Russell Gugino, Cleveland Williams, Richard Lodge, Rosalind Mathews, Edward Kappling, Bob Fager, Beverly Eddy, Fay Ellen Stallings, Douglas Daniels, Richard Beldock, Pauline Barris, Elaine Banks, and Corole Agnew; also on the second floor, Caroline Rockwell was assisted by the following monitors: Karen Zaytsow, Romona Lopez, Coline Vassald, Sally Gase, Ruth Bloom, Ophelia Jackson, Anna Mae Dater, Janice Meliske, Jane Meserve, Sharon Eurich, Domell Dengler, Alfred Mitchell, Michael Blazejewski, Nelson Lund, and David Saldana.

Assisting William Allen, on the third floor are: Pat Dooley, Guna Zobans, Glenda Ferman, Rosevelt Ruffin, Jinnet Nicholson, Ronald Dork, Shirley Keifer, Kathaleen Knapp, George Lossee, Diana Glazier, Marylyn Dunn, Mary Triant, Judith Bushey, Nancy Haag, Carole Chivington, David Alcorn, Raymond, Berrnenter, Arturo Rosalis, Art Webster Gunta Martinson, Ronnie Clark, Carline Klouse, Phyllis Haines, James Ellison, and Bernard Wongus.

We express sincere thanks to our service squad members for their fine work this school year.

Make-up Committee

This year our make-up committee has done a great job of putting the make-up on the students in the plays.

They have to know how to put the make-up on just right so that it can be seen from a distance and yet not be too dark.

The make-up committee was under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. William Dooley. The following girls were on the committee: Sally Gase, Pat Dooley, Martha Tomlinson, Ann Thomas, Jinnet Nickolson, Sue Laubauch, Leta Lutzke, Rosalind Mathews, JoAnn Rexius.

Paint must be a good preservative.... judging by how women are outlasting the men.

Foods and Silverware

Have you ever wondered how the food classes get their beautiful silverware? Miss Casey's and Mrs. Mayer's classes save coupons so that later on in the year they will have enough for new sets of silverware.

Each class elects a ticket chairman who collects the coupons and puts them in the box on Miss Casey's desk.

At the end of the year Miss Casey gives prizes to the girls who have brought in the most coupons.

Throughout the year Miss Casey's classes have been trying to get twelve place sets for each kitchen.

Miss Casey is the club chairman of all the food classes in Junior High schools. She sends in the coupons to the company from which they receive the silverware.

Foods and Silverware Committee

Ticket chairmen for each class were: Judy Frerdel, Scarlette Briggins, Dianna Kerridge, Theresa Kleinelrich, Joyce Provast, and Lupe Cadena.

Atom Smashers

Atom Smashers, that is the term given the Science Club of Central Junior.

The Science club was organized in 1946, and is under the supervision of Mr. Joseph G. Barr. This year the club has nine members that have passed their experiments.

In order to become a member of Central's Science Club you must first present your application to the secretary with a twenty-five cent registration fee. After that you put on a demonstration on some subject that deals with science, and then you are a qualified member.

The Science Club puts on a vaudeville and dance once a year to raise money to help pay for a trip that the members go on each year.

The officers of the Scienece Club are president, Terry O'Keefe; vice-president, Aaron Lockyer; secretary-treasurer, Gerry Harsch; and sergeant-at-arms, Nelson Lund.

Central's Art Club

This year Central's Art Club was under the supervision of Miss Mary McKinnon, and Miss Carol Tessin. It has a larger number of members than last year and here are some of them: Caroline Johnson, Dick Granville, Robert Fager, Maurice Zilber, Caroline Bull, Dick Beldock, Alfred Mitchell, David Alcorn, Janet King, Darlene Schults, Pat Staver and Jo Ann Mitchell.

The Art Club had a lot of activities this year and some of them included: P. T. A. table decorations, which Miss McKinnon and Miss Tessin took turns doing, Christmas play sets, Easter assembly scenes, Reflector covers and the Highlights.

We wish to thank Miss Tessin, Miss McKinnon and the many art club students for the fine job they did this year. See picture on bottom of page 40.

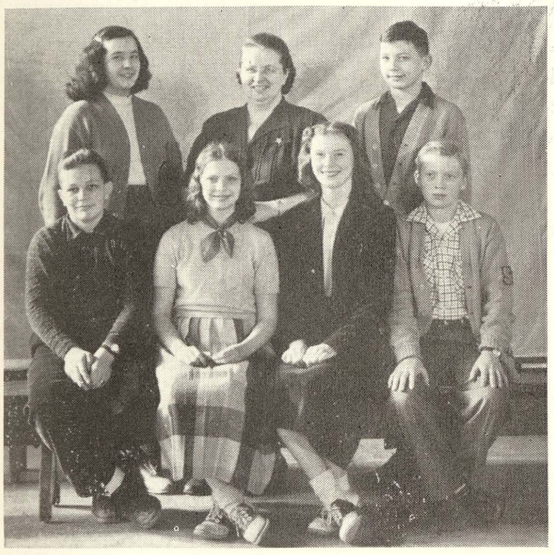
Cheerleaders

We are very proud that we have such a fine group of cheerleaders. They spent many long hours working on the cheers.

The students who led our cheers were Ann Thomas, Beverly Sperry, Bernice Patton, Grace Jordan, Barbara Maturen, Connie Allen, Magaret Hayes, Charles Bothuel and Lindsey Daniels.

Some of their best cheers were C. E., Purple and Gold, F-I-G-H-T, and Let's Go.

We thank Miss Lundbom for the wonderful work she did in selecting and coaching the the cheerleaders.



Central's Library Staff

Central's Library

Seven sets of encyclopedias, fiction, non-fiction, and technical books are included in over 6000 books available to the students of Central, in Central's fine and improving library.

In charge of our library this year was Miss Mary Williams. Head librarian was Sharon Scott and her assistants were: Cecil Ely, Nelson Lund, Mary Shaffer, Sue Whitehouse, and Richard Ulrey.

The librarians have to do such jobs as check out books, place cards in returned books, keep the room in order, and write out overdue cards for the students.

Our Cafeteria

Every day hundreds of Centralites go into our large cafeteria to eat their lunches. During fourth and fifth hours this is the center of activity.

During the winter months approximately three hundred students buy their meals in the cafeteria. These plate meals usually consist of meat or fish, potatoes and gravy, a couple of vegetables and just about anything that you would want.

Almost everything that is served is homemade. This of course includes cake and pies. This certainly keeps the workers in our cafeteria busy, and they deserve a lot of praise for preparing such good dinners for our students.

Mrs. Dillman is the head of the cafeteria, and she and Mrs. Dice work regularly to prepare the meals. Mrs. Rathbun assists them during the busy months.

Junior Basketball

Central's junior basketball team came through with a tie with North for the championship in the 1952-53 season.

The high point man for the Central Junior team was Debie Blondin; he scored 137 points.

Mr. Stoner deserves a lot of credit for his fine coaching job. We wish him luck in the coming years.

Highlights Review

The "Highlights of '53" was held on March twelfth and thirteenth. This program took a lot of of practice and time of the students who participated in it. Two of our teachers who also put in lots of time to make the program a success are Miss Tessin and Mr. McDonald.

There were snappy tap dances and three lines of cute chorus girls. Colorful costumes added to the acts and made them very good. Many students sang songs and some played instruments.

One of the biggest hits of the program was the "Bolivian Bombshells." This was a chorus of all boys dressed up as Bolivian women. They brought a laugh from the audience.

This year's "Highlights" proved to be another smash hit.

Coronation Ceremony

The crowning of our king and queen came on the evening of the "Highlights," March 12th and 13th. The results were as follows: King, Fred Warner, Queen, Martha Tomlinson. Attendants to the king were: Cecil Ely, Jim Shadt, Tom Herm, Rudy Ornelas. Attendants to the queen were: Elaine Cymbol, Grace Jordan, Shirley Keifer, and Gloria Mendoza.

In order to be a candidate for king or queen, you must have one hundred signatures on an official petition. Only students selling sponsorships and tickets could vote. Sponsorships were worth 50 votes for king and queen and tickets were worth 5 votes for king and queen.

We wish to thank all the students that participated in making the program a big success. Also we say congratulations to the students in the court.
